All service pricing is based upon hair length, thickness, amount of product used and quantity of time required to achieve desired style/effects. In certain cases, prices for services may vary from the list price. This usually involves work volume that is considered "above and beyond" the norm for given service. Prices may also vary by stylist based on their level of experience and education. Whenever possible, beauty specialists will notify clients before commencing the service if the price is likely to exceed the listed price.
